

Managing IT Change During a Pandemic

Migrations and Modernizations
Demand Collaboration and a New Mindset

OLD WAY

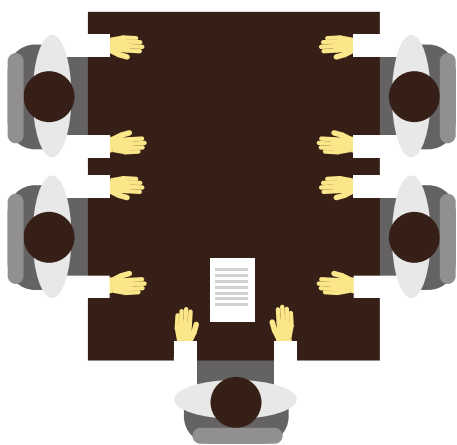

Exchanging confusing team emails

Tracking complex IT ecosystems in spreadsheets

Outdated information and missed interdependencies

Holding countless "war room" sessions to plan a change

Struggling to make progress on important modernization efforts

2020 WAY

Ease in accessing data and resources needed to work anywhere, anytime

Minimized switching between different applications to get their job done

Fewer in-person meetings, allowing employees to collaborate efficiently and make rapid decisions that meet business demands

Collaboration between business and IT workers to address opportunities as they emerge - and reduce risks and errors
